How to sell on Poshmark : How I Earned Over $25K in One Year With My Side Hustle &#128170; And now, here I am, sharing my tips and tricks on how to grow your own reselling empire!

&#128400; , Do you have a gig work or side hustle story to tell? Do you have word s of wisdom that might help others looking to make it in the gig economy?
Perhaps it&#39;s something you no longer wear or use from your own home. Perhaps you purchased it at a thrift store, buy sell trade store, Target, etc. When you &#39;re first starting your reselling journey, my advice would be to sell items from around your own home that you no longer use but that still have a lot of li fe left in them. List those items and start making a profit as they sell.

If people &quot;like&quot; the item (Poshmark and Mercari) or &quot;watch&quot; the item (eBay) or &quot;cart&quot; the item (Kidizen), send them offers. If you r listing hasn&#39;t sold after a month or two of being listed, revisit it. Edit your listing by freshening it up with new keywords and perhaps even a new price
. I would even recommend deleting the listing and creating a brand new one in it s place. All reselling platforms require some maintenance, so make sure you&#39; re giving each platform the attention it needs and deserves.

Not only do you want to track your numbers for each individual transaction to en sure you&#39;re making a profit on each item, but you&#39;ll also want to find w ays to track your numbers with the bigger picture in mind.

&#128565; Once the high from FINDING the amazing item disappears, you&#39;re lef t staring at inventory that requires a lot of work to get it to the finish line of selling to someone else on the internet.
