“Mobile sports betting has been enormously successful.

We’re number one in the country,” Addabbo said Thursday while discussing his “i-Gaming” measure.

He said more money can be generated for the state treasury from mobile bets on internet card games than on sports betting, and noted that New Yorkers are already placing billions of dollars of online bets on card games in other states or in the unregulated black market.

Meanwhile, the state is considering issuing up to three downstate casino licenses within the next year after reviewing bids from gaming operators.

Mets owner Steve Cohen is eyeing a casino near the team’s Citi Field in Flushing, Queens.

Meanwhile, several states like Colorado and Tennessee have expanded from land-based to online betting, but are unlikely to expand their online gambling offerings any time soon.

This opened the door to state-based retail and online sports betting.

To start, you choose to bet on the player’s victory or the Bank, or a draw.

The same rule applies to the Bank if the player doesn’t take a third card.

This rule works also for the bank if the player does not draw a new card.
